

I am Dr. Herman Felton, your president of Wilberforce University, and I welcome you (back) to this venerable institution. No matter if you will matriculate as a new freshman, transfer student, or a re-admitted student, the opportunity to attend the America's 1st Private Historically Black College University is an honor, and we are excited that you have chosen to join us.

During the next few weeks, we are planning for your arrival, and hope that you arrive with the same level of enthusiasm we have for you! As you move through the process, I want to emphasize the importance of beginning this experience right, by completing forms, meeting deadlines, being present, and fully participating in transition programs and efforts.

As Wilberforce President, I want you to consider that this will be a life-changing opportunity, but one that will take your full attention and commitment. Completing your higher education experience will only ensure that you achieve your dreams. As you think about your transition, we look forward to partnering with you to become your very best self. We welcome you on this journey and look forward to you joining the ranks of the proud graduates of Wilberforce University.

Thank you for choosing Wilberforce University and I look forward to assisting you in achieving your dreams.

Suo Marte,
